John Cicala

Website name: Cicala's Restaurant and Bar

Description: This website will be for my own restaurant! It will include everything that you typically see on a restaurant website. Things like the menu, pictures, reviews, and more will be implemented. The goal of this website is to make my restaurant seem appealing. I want to make people want to eat here even though this restaurant doesn't really exist.

Page Names: Main Menu, Bar/Drinks, Pictures, About Us, Reviews

Data Stored: We will store information about each menu item. A description, side choices, pictures. No one will be able to change this except the administration. We will do the same for drinks. We will also store pictures of the restaurant itself. Another component will be the review page, where we will store real reviews that people can submit.
